

JOINT ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT OF THE RIVER TANA

TANA RIVER INTERREG PROJECT 2017-2019

Seminar in Rovaniemi

Road culverts as migration barriers for fish: Surveying and restoration.

The focus is on planning of joint approach of inspection migration barriers

Date: 22nd November 2017

Time: 9:00 – 16:00 Finnish time

Place: Arktikum

Address: Pohjoisranta 2, ROVANIEMI

PROGRAMME:

Introduction

- 9:00 Welcome coffee
- 9:15 Aims of the seminar (Ilona Grekelä, ELY Centre)
- 9:30 Restoration of migration barriers along roads on the North Calott: an overview of experiences from previous work and lessons for the future (Antti Eloranta, NINA)

Experiences from restoration of migration barriers in the Tana river basin:

- 10:00 Results of the previous restoration work in the Tana river system (Jaakko Erkinaro, LUKE)
- 10:30 Examples and experiences from restorations in the Norwegian parts of Tana (Knut Aune Hoseth (NVE) and Narve Johansen (Tana fishing management-TF).
- 11:00 Excursion in Arktikum (<http://www.arktikum.fi>)
- 12:00 Lunch

Know-how from other areas and river- basins

- 13:00 The manual "Frie fiskeveger" and templates for inspection of Norwegian public roads, by Ingrid Vågnes Hjelle, Norwegian Public Roads Administration.

13:30 The river restoration in the “Esteed pois” project: templates for inspection, by Pirkko-Liisa Luhta. Templates for inspection in Inari region, Markku Seppänen, Metsähallitus.

14:00 Avoiding new migration barriers in road building and culvert installing (Arvo Olli, Metsähallitus)

14:30 Discussion on a joint approach to inspection and restoration, led by Ilona Grekelä (ELY)

- Templates of inspection: which parameters need to be included?
- Templates of re-survey of restored sites
- Measuring the effect of restoration on previously restored sites (methods and reporting)
- Storing of inspection data in national websites (e.g. Norway (www.vann-nett.no/saksbehandler), Finland (Hertta database/VESTY) and in transboundary websites
- Other guidelines for joint field work in Tana in 2018.

16:00 Thank you for your participation: closing the event